Transforming "Awareness" into "Action"

A message from Helen Chesnut, Executive Director

Helen Chesnut
Executive Director,
Komen St. Louis Affiliate

October is National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, but how do we take this awareness and put it into action?

Do we make our mammogram appointments, remembering that a bit of discomfort IS worth a lifetime? Do we support every "pink" activity that benefits Komen St. Louis, because it means that dollars will go where they are needed in the areas of screening, treatment, education and research?

Maybe taking action will involve reaching out to someone newly diagnosed, letting them know they are not alone, or celebrating the people in our lives who have made our own breast cancer journeys easier.

For me, it will be about 31 days of breast health actions that I hope will become habits for me and those I care about.

I will remember that even 15 minutes of exercise a day is better than driving or sitting in a chair for eight hours, and that those 15 minutes will help lower my risk of breast cancer recurrence. I will continue to communicate with my family about our health history - there is a lot to discuss when you come from a family of 10, including eight women - but also keeping in mind that the two greatest risk factors of breast cancer are getting older and being female.

I will remind my nieces in their 20s and 30s that they need to have a clinical breast exam at least every three years because early detection is key to breast cancer survival; and because their Aunt Helen was diagnosed with breast cancer, they MUST begin the discussion with their doctors to determine when they should have their first mammogram.

There will be breast self-awareness information strategically stuffed in my purse to hand out to my friends (and probably a few strangers) as a reminder that they, too, need to take action for their breast health.

You will find me on Oct. 23 showing off my mad bowling skills at Spare Nothing for the Cure, spending time with family and friends to show support and raise vital dollars that are used in the Komen St. Louis Affiliate's 17-county service area.

It is going to be a busy month, but these 31 days of action are only the beginning. Join me on a mission to help those in need and find the cures! Keep checking in with Komen St. Louis to find out how you, too, can take your breast health awareness and turn it into breast health action!

WHERE THE MONEY GOES

Your dollars fight breast cancer right here in our community

In 2011, the Komen St. Louis Affiliate awarded total grants of more than $3.1 million that will stay in the St. Louis community to fund 28 programs at local health care facilities and nonprofits. These grants are helping to fund innovative projects in the areas of breast health and breast cancer research, education, outreach, screening, treatment and support services not otherwise available to the medically underserved populations of the Affiliate's 17-county service area.

Here's how one of our 28 community partners is putting your dollars to work in the fight against breast cancer:

Puentes de Esperanza's mission is to enhance the quality of life within the Metro East's Latina community. Due to a number of barriers, Hispanic and Latino women are typically screened for breast cancer later than other women, resulting in lower survival rates. Through an intense, culturally sensitive outreach, education and support effort, this program eliminates barriers, increases breast cancer awareness and the number of Latinas who receive screening and diagnostic services. Most of the women assisted by this program would not otherwise receive services. By reaching these women, Puentes de Esperanza hopes to instill a sense of need for preventive health care and enable their clients to independently seek the services they need.

Pink Lemonade Stand - $140

These 17-month-old twin girls raised money to fight breast cancer by selling pink lemonade - and wearing pink tutus - in a local park.

Rally for the Cure - $140,000

Janie Morrell and Shelly Weible co-chaired the annual golf tournament fundraiser at the Country Club of St. Albans.

Caliente for the Cure - $22,000

Over 600 participants experienced Caliente for the Cure 2011, a two-hour fitness event co-chaired by Barb Absher and Jenn Courtner.

Pinkapalooza Trivia Night - $17,781

Alissa's Hope hosted a "Pinkapalooza" trivia night to benefit the Komen St. Louis Affiliate.

In 2011, the Komen St. Louis Affiliate awarded more than $3.1 million in total grants that will stay in the greater St. Louis community to fund 28 programs at local health care facilities and nonprofits.

A delicious decade: Saint Louis Bread Co. celebrates 10 years of the Pink Ribbon Bagel®

Panera Bread, locally known as Saint Louis Bread Co., is celebrating 10 years of fighting breast cancer by baking bagels. This October, the signature Pink Ribbon Bagel® will be sold at all of Panera Bread's approximately 1,500 bakery-cafes, with a portion of the proceeds from each bagel sold benefiting breast cancer causes throughout the country. A staple each October in honor of Breast Cancer Awareness Month, donations from the sale of the Pink Ribbon Bagel have now raised more than $1 million for breast cancer charities. Saint Louis Bread Co. hopes to make 2011 the largest year for donations ever.

"The Pink Ribbon Bagel is a customer favorite, in part because it's a delicious way to start the day and because each bagel sold helps bring us one step closer to finding a cure for breast cancer," said Don Hutcheson, Area Director. "Saint Louis Bread Co. is proud to work with the communities we serve to help raise money for such a worthy cause. In our market, the St. Louis Affiliate of Susan G. Komen for the Cure will receive the funds we raise to support their promise of saving lives and ending breast cancer forever by empowering people, ensuring quality care for all and energizing science to find the cures."

Shaped in the form of the iconic pink ribbon, the Pink Ribbon Bagel features cherry chips, dried cherries and cranberries, vanilla, honey and brown sugar. They are baked fresh early each morning by Saint Louis Bread Co.'s bakers at each bakery-cafe. For each bagel sold, at least 10 cents will be donated to support breast cancer awareness and research. Nearly two million Pink Ribbon Bagels were sold nationally in 2010, raising more than $75,000 for charity.

This year, Saint Louis Bread Co. is making it even easier to help fight breast cancer locally with the Power of Pink Baker's Dozen. Throughout the month of October at participating bakery-cafes, one dollar from any baker's dozen of bagels sold will be donated to the Komen St. Louis Affiliate.

Ten cents from the purchase of each Pink Ribbon Bagel and $1 from every Bagel Pack sold in St. Louis area bakery-cafes during the month of October will be donated to the Komen St. Louis Affiliate.

Yoplait's Save Lids to Save Lives Make your lids mean something

It's time to Save Lids to Save Lives with Yoplait yogurt.

This year, Yoplait is tracking the zip codes from lids redeemed to make sure dollars generated through local lid collection go back to the Komen St. Louis Affiliate.

Look for pink lids on Yoplait yogurt cups in September and October. Visit Yoplait.com to redeem your lids online and to learn more about this program.

Or return your clean lids to the Komen St. Louis Affiliate office or the collection bins at local Schnucks stores.

BREAST SELF-AWARENESS

Susan G. Komen for the Cure® recommends:

1. Know your risk.

- Talk to your family to learn about your family health history
- Talk to your health care provider about your own risk of breast cancer

2. Get screened.

- Ask your doctor which screening tests are right for you
- Have a mammogram every year starting at age 40 if you are at average risk
- Have a clinical breast exam at least every 3 years starting at age 20, and every year starting at 40

3. Know what is normal for you.

See your health care provider right away if you notice any of these breast changes:

- Lump, hard knot or thickening
- Swelling, warmth, redness or darkening
- Change in size or shape of the breast
- Dimpling or puckering of the skin
- Itchy, scaly sore or rash on the nipple
- Pulling in of your nipple or other parts of the breast
- Nipple discharge that starts suddenly
- New pain in one spot that doesn't go away

4. Make healthy lifestyle choices.

- Maintain a healthy weight
- Add exercise to your routine
- Limit alcohol intake

In Missouri, an estimated 4,100 new cases of invasive breast cancer will be diagnosed among women in 2011, and 800 of those women will die of the disease.

Worship in Pink 2011

Faith communities in the Komen St. Louis Affiliate's service area are invited to participate in our first Worship in Pink weekend. Worship in Pink is a free, grass-roots effort with local churches, synagogues and mosques to educate their respective members on breast health and breast cancer. For more information, contact the Affiliate office or jpatch@komenstlouis.org.

Missouri Health Insurance Pool reduces federal pool rates

The Missouri Health Insurance Pool (MHIP), a quasi-governmental organization, has announced a 23 percent reduction in premiums for its federal pool program. The pool guarantees health coverage for Missourians with pre-existing conditions such as breast cancer who have been uninsured for six months or longer. The premium reduction aims to make comprehensive medical coverage accessible to Missourians who otherwise could not afford it. More information is available at www.mhip.org or 800-821-2231.

Komen College Scholarship Program

Komen scholarships are available to aid students who would find attending college to be a significant financial burden due to the loss of a parent/guardian to breast cancer or due to their own breast cancer diagnosis at age 25 or younger. Scholarship recipients are selected based on scholastic achievement, community service, financial need and demonstrated leadership potential. Application deadline is Nov. 15, 2011. More information at www.komen.org/scholarship.

Be a Research Advocate No science experience required

Alaina Boyer, PhD, research scholar and recipient of a Komen Career Grant Award; Ron Bose, MD, PhD, breast oncology; Judy Johnson, co-chair, Komen St. Louis Research Advocacy Committee; Lisa Facer, Research Advocacy Committee member; and Tim Collier, PhD, meet to collaborate on a grant application

For those interested in learning the most recent breast cancer news and becoming involved in advocacy, the Research Advocacy Committee of the Komen St. Louis Affiliate is an excellent place. No science background is necessary. The committee meets monthly at the Komen St. Louis Affiliate office, and everyone is welcome to attend.

At the August "Dialogue with the Expert" series, Alaina Boyer and Tim Collier, post doctoral research scholars, presented "How an Idea for Research BECOMES Research," using their own HER2 Herceptin research as an example.

On Thursday, Sept. 29, at 7 pm, Courtney Beers will discuss the Women's Health Repository Study (tissue bank). The committee will be on the road Nov. 17 with a tour of the Biologic Therapy Core. That tour is full. The October meeting is to be announced, and there is no December meeting. In January 2012, Dr. Matthew Ellis will provide an update on the most promising breast cancer research.

For more information, please email researchadvocacy@komenstlouis.org. Judy Johnson and Lorry Blath are the committee co-chairs.
