Summer/Fall - 2008

Helen Chesnut Named Executive Director of Komen St. Louis Affiliate

Helen Chesnut has been hired as the new Executive Director of Susan G. Komen for the Cure St. Louis Affiliate announced by the Affiliate's President Susie Knopf. Chesnut has been on staff at the Komen St. Louis Affiliate for over a year and has served as interim director since March.

"We are delighted to have Helen as our new Executive Director. Along with her invaluable executive skills, she brings both years of volunteerism and staff experience to the organization."

Susie Knopf, Affiliate President

As the newly-appointed Executive Director at the Affiliate, Chesnut will be responsible for leading the local Four-Star Rated Charity, named by Charity Navigator, into the next decade.

She will oversee the overall operation of the organization including representing Komen St. Louis to the public and community organizations, institutional development, providing guidance to volunteers and committees, and financial and personnel oversight. She will also act as liaison to the Board of Directors and be responsible for building systems and procedures to accomplish the mission, goals and policies set forth by the Board.

Chesnut has served as Director of Fund Development since coming on staff at the Affiliate, while she served in a volunteer role with the organization for seven years prior to that. In 2004 and 2005, she chaired the St. Louis Race for the Cure®. Additionally, Chesnut served a two-year term on the St. Louis Board of Directors.

Local Affiliate to Host First-Ever Pink Tie Ball®

Nancy G. Brinker, Founder of Susan G. Komen for the Cure®,

To Attend with Dr. Eric Winer, Chief Scientific Advisor

The St. Louis Affiliate of Susan G. Komen for the Cure® will host its first-ever Pink Tie Ball, a formal dinner-dance to raise funds for breast cancer research, education, screening and treatment. The pink-themed gala will be held at The Ritz-Carlton St. Louis on October 11, 2008, during breast cancer awareness month.

Nancy G. Brinker, founder of Susan G. Komen for the Cure, will be in attendance along with Dr. Eric Winer, the chief scientific advisor for the national organization.

As is custom with Pink Tie Ball fundraisers, gentlemen will receive a pink tie to wear that evening while there will be no shortage of pink at the event, as women will also wear pink gowns and the hotel will be dyeing its fountain the color of Komen to welcome guests as they arrive for the evening.

Joann Harmon Arnold, Sally Bliss, Joanne Knight, Susie Knopf, President of the Affiliate, and Cindy Prost are serving as inaugural co-chairs for the event and internationally-known jazz guitarist, vocalist and bandleader John Pizzarelli will provide the world-class entertainment for the evening.

For more information on tickets and sponsorship, call the Komen St. Louis Affiliate at 314-569-3900 or visit www.komenstlouis.org.

Q&A With Helen

In your new position, what will be one of the first tasks you hope to accomplish?

One of my first tasks will be to review our long-term strategic plan. A good evaluation will be done to see where we have hit our target and what areas need improvement. Every organization needs to take a good look at itself. It is the only way to grow and become stronger.

Komen St. Louis Affiliate volunteers are the driving force of this organization. How do you plan to expand on the current volunteer base and get more people involved?

I would love to see more volunteers from events like our Race involved at other events throughout the year. There are so many opportunities for volunteers that include speaking to groups on breast health awareness, to assisting at local health fairs, to lending a hand in the Affiliate office. This organization would not be where it is after 10 short years if it were not for the volunteers that have supported it with their time and talents.

As part of this organization for over seven years, you have worn many different hats - from Race Co-Chair to Board Member to employee and now to Executive Director. How will you use your extensive history with the organization in your new role?

As the organization grew, so did I. I began with Komen as a co-survivor, doing what I could to assist friends who were diagnosed with breast cancer. Early detection IS the key to survival, so spreading the word became more and more important and I realized I could affect change. Now it is about the "big picture." Every day we know more about breast cancer. After being diagnosed in 2006, I saw this organization in action at a very personal level and realized that I was meant to be a part of the promise. I want the cures for breast cancer to be found in my lifetime!

What do you see as the goals of the Affiliate as it starts its second decade?

One goal would be to increase awareness and understanding amongst the local communities that Komen St. Louis is the premiere resource for breast cancer information. Also, it would be unbelievable if we were the Affiliate that raises the last dollar that finds the cures for breast cancer.

Dear Friends of the Komen St. Louis Affiliate A Letter from the President

A fond hello and welcome to our first newsletter from Susan G. Komen for the Cure St. Louis. What better way to thank all of you for your tremendous support of our 10th Annual Komen St. Louis Race for the Cure. On a beautiful morning in late June, over $3.3 million was raised to further our promise. That was due to the hard work of our volunteers, staff and all of the amazing 64,000 plus participants.

We have exciting developments and activities taking place at this time within the organization.

We are proud to announce the hiring of Helen Chesnut as our new Executive Director. Helen, a breast cancer survivor, has been a volunteer and board member of the St. Louis Affiliate. Additionally, she has served as Director of Fund Development as a staff member for almost two years. Her experience and expertise make this an exciting time for Komen St. Louis and she is dedicated to bringing the Affiliate to the next level while keeping its vision - ending breast cancer forever.

We are delighted to now have her in this new position as we look forward to starting our second decade in the St. Louis Community.

Also, a very exciting event is approaching...St. Louis' first-ever Pink Tie Ball. An elegant evening of dinner, dancing and fundraising for breast cancer will take place on October 11th, 2008. We are thrilled to welcome special guests Nancy G. Brinker, founder of Susan G. Komen for the Cure, and Chief Scientific Advisor Dr. Eric Winer as special guests of the gala event.

Please see our web site for all the exciting details and more exciting news in future newsletters.

TOP-RATED CHARITY

Susan G. Komen for the Cure has been named a top-rated charity
by Charity Navigator,

America's largest independent evaluator of charities.

Charity Navigator's award of four out of a possible four stars indicates that we excel, as compared to other charities in America, in successfully managing our organizational finances in an efficient and effective manner. This is an exceptional feat, especially given the economic challenges many charities have had to face in the last year.

Of the charities that received four-star ratings this year, only Komen for the Cure with our $207 million in raised revenue received four stars and a 63.25 rating.

In the United States, women have a one in eight chance of developing breast cancer in her lifetime.

THANK YOU ST. LOUIS!

10th Annual Komen St. Louis Race For the Cure Raises $3.3 Million For Breast Cancer

Downtown St. Louis was a sea of pink on Saturday, June 21st, as nearly 64,000 breast cancer survivors, co-survivors, supporters, celebrities and activists gathered for the 10th Annual Susan G. Komen St. Louis Race for the Cure.

The 5K event raised $3.3 million for breast cancer screening, treatment, education and research for the St. Louis Community, making it the largest dollar amount raised in the history of the Race.

The day began with over 4,000 breast cancer survivors, all wearing Komen's signature color, taking part in the annual Survivor Procession. The memorable moment of the morning was a sign of unity amongst all those who continue to fight this disease and have won their battle.

Following the procession, former honorary co-chairs from Races' past gathered on stage to give words of encouragement. Those that spoke included Scott Komen, the son of Susan G. Komen, D'Marco Farr, professional broadcaster, Stephen Jackson of the St. Louis Rams, Lorrie Isringhausen, wife of Cardinals' pitcher Jason Isringhausen and Manny and Gigi Legace, goalie for the St. Louis Blues.

The Race got underway at 8:45 a.m. with Stacey Cooper as the official starter. A breast cancer survivor, Cooper raised $9,400 through The Pledge Program.

Don Dowling of St. Charles was the first wheelchair athlete to cross the line at 12:45 followed by Jacob Swearingen from Potosi who won the 5k Run for the second year in a row. He doesn't keep his time. Meagan Hudson of Crystal City was the first female to cross the finish line with a time of 18:24. Katie Sutton of Kirkwood was the first survivor to cross the finish line at 20:09

Rams Cheerleaders, members of the St. Louis Blues and current Cardinals' wives were on hand at the finish line to hand out roses to all the survivors that finished the Race.

Up to seventy-five percent of funds raised at the Komen St. Louis Race stay in the local community to fund programs and initiatives that address the breast health needs of the area. The remaining funds support breast cancer research through the Komen National Award and Research Grant Program.

Komen St. Louis Affiliate Grants and Education

Since its inception in 1999, the St. Louis Affiliate of Susan G. Komen for the Cure® has invested over $10 million for the fight against breast cancer. Our local grant program supports non-profit organizations that provide innovative breast health/breast cancer education and direct service programs within our service area. See the link below for a map of our service areas in both Missouri and Illinois.

This grant program is made possible through the support of our signature fundraiser, the Komen St. Louis Race For the Cure®, other local events, individual donations and the generous support of corporate sponsors.

If you would like further information regarding Komen Grants and Education, contact Patty Nugent - pnugent@komenstlouis.org.

The article focuses on Mahon's approach to genetic counseling to hereditary cancers.
- DR. ERIC P. WINER, Chief Scientific Advisor at Susan G. Komen for the Cure®, stresses that it is important for women to be aware of the normal look and feel of their breasts, further advising them to report any changes to their doctors. Breast health awareness remains critical, since we know that early detection of breast cancer greatly improves a woman's odds of beating the disease.

Women should understand their personal risks of the disease and the benefits of lifestyle choices in terms of reducing the risk of breast cancer. Women can decrease their risk of developing breast cancer by avoiding excessive weight gain, limiting alcohol consumption and getting regular exercise. Routine mammography for women age 40 and over has also been shown to improve breast cancer survival.

Breast cancer remains a common problem, but with a combination of early detection and effective treatment, the vast majority of women will go on to lead a long and healthy life.

GRANTEE SPOTLIGHT: First-Time Komen St. Louis Grantee Helping Women on the East Side of the River

Southern Illinois Healthcare Foundation seeks to provide mammograms and treatment options in East St. Louis

The Southern Illinois Healthcare Foundation (SIHF), a 2008 Susan G. Komen for the Cure St. Louis® Grantee, has hit the ground running with focused efforts on increasing breast cancer education and management. Headed by Project Director Beth Zurliene and a dedicated staff, SIHF's accomplishments have already been held in high regard.

The SIHF, which has been in existence for over twenty years, has built numerous relationships with the people of East St. Louis and surrounding low income communities through Kenneth Hall Regional Hospital of East St. Louis and Touchette Regional Hospital of Centreville, Ill. In recent years, the Foundation focused its efforts on breast cancer research due to an overall lack of awareness and accessibility.

"In an average month, more than one woman dies from breast cancer in East St. Louis," Zurliene said.

Simply put, women in these predominantly African-American communities have not had enough opportunities to learn about the signs and effects of breast cancer, hence higher rates of mortality from the disease.

With four main goals, the Foundation has changed its focus to provide breast cancer education to all females age 40 and over who visit Kenneth Hall Regional Hospital, Touchette Regional Hospital and local family health clinics. In addition, the Foundation looks to provide individual case management for both screening and treatment through mammograms and necessary follow-ups. In order for more women to receive mammograms, the Foundation also looks to maximize revenues and ensure that all women on Medicare and/or Medicaid receive mammograms for free, or with appropriate charges. Through the dedication of staff and its preliminary success, SIHF hopes to serve as a model for other healthcare systems throughout Illinois.

SIHC's grant through the Komen St. Louis Affiliate has enabled the Foundation to hire a Patient Navigator through its START NOW Program. Debra Custer currently serves in this role, and is responsible for providing outreach and education, coordinating breast examinations and mammography screenings, arranging appointments and transportation services, and helping to decrease fear and anxiety overall.

"Debra acts as a helping hand to women who are facing uncertain times," Zurliene said. "She ensures that patients pursue ongoing diagnosis and treatment."

According to Patty Nugent, Komen St. Louis Affiliate Director of Grants and Education, SIHC has already made remarkable strides and accomplishments in its efforts at educating women in the communities it serves.

"The people involved in this grant, from Beth Zurliene to her staff, have great energy and excitement about this program," Nugent said. "It was a long time coming but it was a much needed partnership to address the breast health care needs of some of the poorest women in East St. Louis and St. Clair County."

With its immediate success, other health centers in the area have taken interest in forming similar services while SIHF hopes to continue its successful model, as well as furthering its partnership with the Affiliate.

"Nearly 60 mammograms have been completed so far, and our goal is to complete 300 mammograms by the end of the year," Zurliene said. "We are definitely on the right track."

MEET OUR INTERNS

Janelle Bradshaw (left) is a senior at University of Missouri-Columbia. A Nutritional Science and Pre-Med major, Janelle joined Komen St. Louis in January of 2008. Since her start, Janelle has worked diligently to aide the Affiliate staff in the months prior to the 2008 Race. Her favorite experience thus far has been, "Meeting new people and witnessing my Grandma walk in the 2008 Survivor Procession."

Rawan Allozi (middle) is a senior at Washington University in St. Louis and is one of ten Goldman Fellows this summer from the Gephardt Institute of Public Service. With a major in Anthropology and a minor in Public Health, Rawan looks to continue her work in the medical field after attaining an MPH. Rawan joined the staff in May of 2008 and has, "Loved the experience as a whole. It is truly a great organization to be a part of." With much success and passion for the organization, Rawan looks to continue her internship throughout the next academic semester.

Lauren Gearhart (right) is a senior at Illinois Wesleyan University. Majoring in Business Administration and Sociology, Lauren joined the staff in June of 2008 and has helped with public relations and marketing tasks. Upon her start, her favorite experience was the 2008 Race. "It was such an amazing sight to see so many people join together for our single cause."
